

Gaming Laboratories International (GLI) Brings Global Professional Services And iGaming Expertise To Canadian Gaming Summit

LAS VEGAS (June 6, 2012) – Gaming Laboratories International (GLI), the world’s leading gaming testing laboratory and technical consultancy, is bringing its unparalleled land-based, iGaming and lottery testing and professional services to the Canadian Gaming Summit. GLI is the only test lab exhibiting.

The 16th annual summit takes place June 11-13 at the Scotiabank Convention Centre in Niagara Falls, Ontario, and GLI will be in booth #312.

GLI is fully engaged in the total gaming landscape across Canada, and the company has labs in British Columbia and in New Brunswick. GLI has been testing for land-based, lottery and iGaming regulators across the country since 1989.

“GLI has the longest history of service to the Canadian gaming industry of any test lab. Only GLI can provide the complete range of service for all of the myriad aspects of the industry that are uniquely Canadian, and we are proud to say our labs are led by Canadians,” said Salim Adatia, CEO of GLI Canada.

GLI’s Global Professional Services team is comprised of the world’s leading experts and provides World Lottery Association (WLA) Security Control Standards (SCS) audits and certification; ISO 27001 security management, advisory, training and certification; Information Systems Security (ISS) audits; project health-checks, recovery and project manager outsource; project management office advisory and training; and PCI compliance.

GLI Interactive is the global leader in iGaming testing certification, with more global experience than any other test lab. Services including testing for internet, i-TV and mobile platforms; eCasino, ePoker, eBingo and Sportsbooks; RNG certification and live dealer platforms; game evaluations; math analysis and payout certification; and full-scope logical and physical security assessments.

GLI will also demonstrate its wide range of exclusive and award-winning tools, including the award-winning GLI Mobile®, which empowers users to take the lab with them anywhere and everywhere they have a cell signal.
